Trade Promotion and Economic Diplomacy

A Shiraka professional development course

The Netherlands invites civil servants from the MENA region to apply for a professional development course on Trade Promotion and Economic Diplomacy. Eligible countries are: Algeria, Bahrain, Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libya, Mauritania, Morocco, Oman, Palestinian Territories, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Tunisia, United Arab Emirates, Yemen.

The objective of the course is for civil servants working in the field of Economic Diplomacy to share their knowledge and skills enabling them to lead and inspire the modernisation of the trade promotion sector in their home countries. The course also aims to strengthen participants' ties with the Netherlands and the Dutch government; especially between Dutch civil servants and their counterparts in the target countries.

Goals of the Trade Promotion and Economic Diplomacy professional development course

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Netherlands is organising the professional development course with the following aims:

- Developing and reinforcing participant's knowledge and understanding of economic diplomacy and trade promotion;
- Empowering participants with the required skills to formulate and implement successful economic and trade policies;
- Stimulating cooperation between the Netherlands and the MENA region, as well as intraregional cooperation.

Additionally, the course provides participants with the opportunity to develop a valuable network with other civil servants in the region and in the Netherlands.

Course outline and content

The course consists of two consecutive weeks, both taking place in August-September at the Clingendael Institute in The Hague. The focus will be on developing and enhancing the participant's theoretical and contextual knowledge regarding economic diplomacy and trade promotion. Clingendael and Berenschot experts, as well as external lecturers, will share their experiences and reflections on the best economic strategies with the participants. A working visit to the Netherlands' Ministry of Foreign Affairs will be organized, as well as meetings with Dutch companies and practitioners.

In addition, the course will focus on the development of personal skills required to engage and influence potential economic partners, to effectively set up a trade mission, and how to bring about change in the participant's own organization as well the investment climate of his/her own country.

During the two training weeks participants will work on a 'back home action plan'. This collaboration will empower participants to further apply their recently cultivated knowledge and skills in their own organisations after course completion.

Dates, location and language

The professional development course will take 2 weeks in total, from 26 August until 6 September 2019. Both weeks will take place in the Netherlands:

Arrival on 25th August and departure on 7 September 2019
Training from 26 August until 6 September 2019

The courses will be in English, with interpretation into Arabic or French. Participants are obliged to attend both weeks in full. After completing the course, participants will receive a certificate.

Costs and fees

The Dutch government will take care of all relevant costs for participants from countries on the OECD-DAC list. This includes international travel, board and lodging, visa and insurance, and tuition fees for the course. Participants from countries that are not on the OECD-DAC list will pay for their own international travel costs (flight tickets and visa). Accommodation (in a simple studio-residence), per diem, insurance and tuition fees for the course will be covered by the Dutch government. All applicants are responsible for the organisation and costs of travelling to the airport in their own country. Participants from countries on the OECD-DAC list departing from an international airport outside their own country, will have to cover local travel expenses themselves and will be compensated for the international part of their journey. All participants should take good note that accommodation is not in a hotel, but in a self-catering apartment in a studio residence. In case of no-shows or cancellations within four weeks before the start of the first part of the training, the organisation has the right to claim all costs incurred from the participants' employer.
